

Opportunistic Pathology for collection by Anaesthetic Team in Medical Imaging/Theatre

Place Pathology Orders in ieMR

1. Place orders as per usual process against correct patient and correct encounter.
2. Refresh the screen, then in the Orders screen select all the orders you would like collected by Anaesthetic Dept.
3. Right click and select Print and then Reprint Requisition
4. Printed Requisition form should accompany booking paperwork and "Bloods" should be included in the Theatre booking.

Refer to Dept. of Anaesthesia Process for Opportunistic Collections for further information.

Printing the Specimen labels from ieMR

1. Search for the patient using their URN, find the correct encounter using the FIN number on the top LEFT of the requisition form

2. Select  from the ieMR toolbar at the top of the screen

3. Carry out the appropriate patient identification checks prior to clicking .

4. The Collection Details window will open and display a list of orders available for collection.

5. Click on the Print  drop down arrow
6. Select Print All Labels.
7. Select required specimen labels for printing, deselect those not required

8. Scan Printer Aztec barcode to select the printer. Click the Print button

7. The label/s will print to the selected printer. Place them in the Pathology bag with requisition form and correct tubes.

Collecting: Opportunistic Pathology Collect

Patient should attend Theatre with Requisition Form, Specimen Labels & Blood tubes in a pathology collection bag.

1. Collect Blood
2. Sign, Date, Time & Label Tubes with the correct labels

Marking the order as collected in ieMR

1. Search for the patient using their URN, find the correct encounter using the FIN number on the top LEFT of the requisition form
2. Select  from the ieMR toolbar at the top of the screen

The patient's wristband may not match the encounter the bloods were ordered in. Ensure you carry out the appropriate patient identification checks prior to pressing .

3. Carry out the appropriate patient identification checks prior to clicking .
4. The Collection Details window will open and display a list of orders available for collection

5. Scan each labelled tube, a tick will appear to indicate collection has occurred.

6. Change time of collection if required (eg. Group & Hold, Drug Levels)

7. Click  to sign the specimens as collected in ieMR prior to sending them to the Laboratory.

Refer to Dept. of Anaesthesia Process for Opportunistic Collections for further information.