

Queensland Centre for Perinatal and Infant Mental Health

A family-centred recovery orientated practice framework for infant and early years mental health

Informed by biopsychosocial ecological and developmental theories of reflective, representational, and transactional infant mental health practice.

Supported by an understanding of and contribution to the evolving knowledge and evidence base in infant mental health through incorporating its application into clinical care; evaluating and researching the effectiveness of therapeutic interventions for infants, young children and their families; and sharing information and outcomes.

Developed by the Queensland Centre for Perinatal and Infant Mental Health (QCPIMH), Children's Health Queensland Hospital and Health Service, with the support of the National Perinatal Depression Initiative.
