Children with Significant Health Care Needs

Are you thinking about my child’s development?

Caring for my child involves:

1. Supporting my child to be more than clinically stable – even when they’re quite unwell.

2. Supporting all aspects of my child’s wellbeing – their relationships, emotional welfare, physical development, communication and play.

3. Planning opportunities for my child to participate in activities just like other children.

4. Integrating and coordinating services and appointments.

5. Providing support for my child’s development with awareness of their health needs and health care experiences.

Let’s work together to make this happen.

Ask my child and family what would make a difference to us.
